

INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM ON SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

21 DEC. (FRIDAY) 13:30-17:00

South Building 4th Floor, Keio University (Mita Campus)

(1) Talk by Young Psychologists

13:30-14:00

Yuka Ishizuka(Keio University)

“The effect of contingent imitation on the development of language”

14:00-14:30

Natsumi Ishikawa (Keio University)

“Social skills training for autism spectrum disorder”

14:30-15:00

Aya Tsuchiya (Shirayuri College Graduate School of Liberal Arts)

“Recognizing emotion in faces through interpreting ambiguous information”

(2) Invited Talk

15:15-16:15

Joe McCleery (University of Birmingham) Visiting Lecturer, Keio University

“Motor development and motor resonance difficulties in autism:
Implications for early intervention”

(3) General Discussion

16:15-17:00

JSPS Invitation Fellowship Programs for Research in Japan
Junichi Yamamoto Lab., Department of Psychology, Keio University
Global Research Centre of Logic and Sensibility, Keio University